Memorial Book Policy

1 The Memorial Book was introduced in about 1997 and is kept in a display cabinet by the Lady Chapel. It consists of two separate books, one for January to June and the other for July to December. There is one page for each week of the year and the page is turned weekly so that it is always open at the current week.

2 Details of those included are inscribed on the page relevant to their date of death. The details recorded are the name (without title, honours or decorations), date of birth and date of death.

3 There is no restriction on those who can be included in the book. Applications for inclusion may be made by a member of the family or anyone interested and should be accompanied by the fee of £10.

4 At the principal service on a Sunday the names of those on the page which includes that day will be included in the intercessions or in prayers at the start or the end of the service. At the discretion of the person leading the service or prayers they may also be included in other services.

5 The names of those in the memorial book who have died within the last six years will be read at the annual All Souls' Memorial Service.
